Description :

Présentation de l'éditeurA major film starring Brie LarsonShortlisted for the Man Booker PrizeShortlisted for the Orange PrizeWith an introduction by John BoyneToday I'm five. I was four last night going to sleep in Wardrobe, but when I wake up in Bed in the dark I'm changed to five, abracadabra.Jack lives with his Ma in Room. Room has a single locked door and a skylight, and it measures ten feet by ten feet. Jack loves watching TV but he knows that nothing he sees on the screen is truly real - only him, Ma and the things in Room. Until the day Ma admits there is a world outside.Devastating yet uplifting, Room by Emma Donoghue is a luminous portrait of a boundless maternal love. It has sold more than two million copies, was a number one bestseller and was shortlisted for the Man Booker and Orange prizes. Few books have reached modern classic status so swiftly.Revue de presseRoom is that rarest of entities, an entirely original work of art. I mean it as the highest possible praise when I tell you that I can't compare it to any other book. Suffice to say that it's potent, darkly beautiful, and revelatory. (Michael Cunningham, Pulitzer Prize-winning author of The Hours) Claustrophobic, controversial, brilliant . . . inventive, tense, and stringently intelligent.

(Maclean's) Remarkable . . . heartrending. . . Both gripping and poignant, it's a tribute to human resourcefulness and resilience and extremity, and a stirring portrait of a mother's devotion. (Toronto Star) An astounding, terrifying novel. (The New Yorker) Thrilling and at moments palm-sweatingly harrowing.
